SIDE QUESTS

HYER · Dickies · Gnarly Nutrition

Ten years in, I've made friends along the way - and I still pick up projects to help them out. A few of the iconic brands I've written for.

ALEX MOLISKI · FREELANCE COPY & CREATIVE

The story is the brand

I rewrote HYER's brand guidelines - a fresh tone and voice for a boot company that's been around since 1875. It starts with the philosophy.

MAKE REAL BOOTS FOR REAL COWBOYS - PRESERVE THE WESTERN WAY OF LIFE

Our Voice

The voice principles I wrote: plainspoken confidence, western without the performance, family-owned but not folksy.

Intentionality

Everything we do, everyone we work with, every decision we make - all strictly follow our principles.

Authenticity

Our brand and story are protected by staying true to our history, family, and communities.

Family Values

Our principles are guided by family values and traditions, for history and our future.

Preserving Western Tradition

We are stewards to the western space, bringing others into the fold, all with Kansas at the forefront.

Relentlessness

Our commitment to these principles doesn't break. If they do, so does our brand.

Passion

We love what we do, and we believe in it.

THE PRINCIPLES THE VOICE IS BUILT ON

Our Tone

How that voice flexes by channel - the not / instead rules that keep it consistent everywhere.

The Cowboy: An American Icon

The cowboy became an American icon for a reason. He worked hard. He relied on himself. He faced long odds, rough country, and long days. Yet, he always kept moving.

Those qualities became part of the American character: grit, independence, tenacity, and the belief that a better life could be built with your own two hands.

HYER isn't about dressing like a cowboy. It's about carrying forward what the cowboy represents.

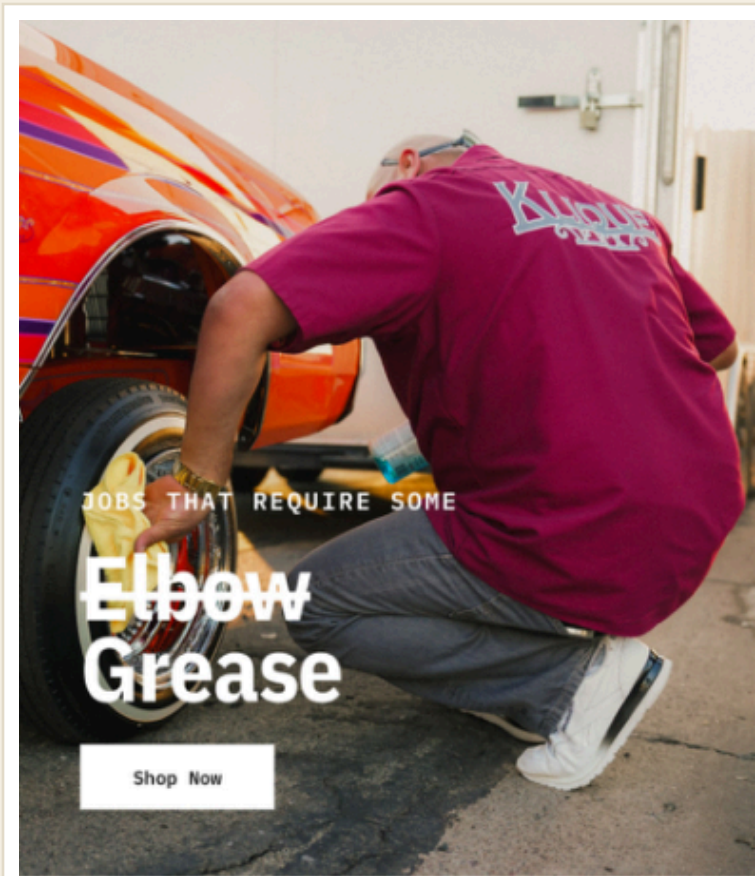

THE MUSE: THE COWBOY AS AN AMERICAN ICON

SIDE QUESTS

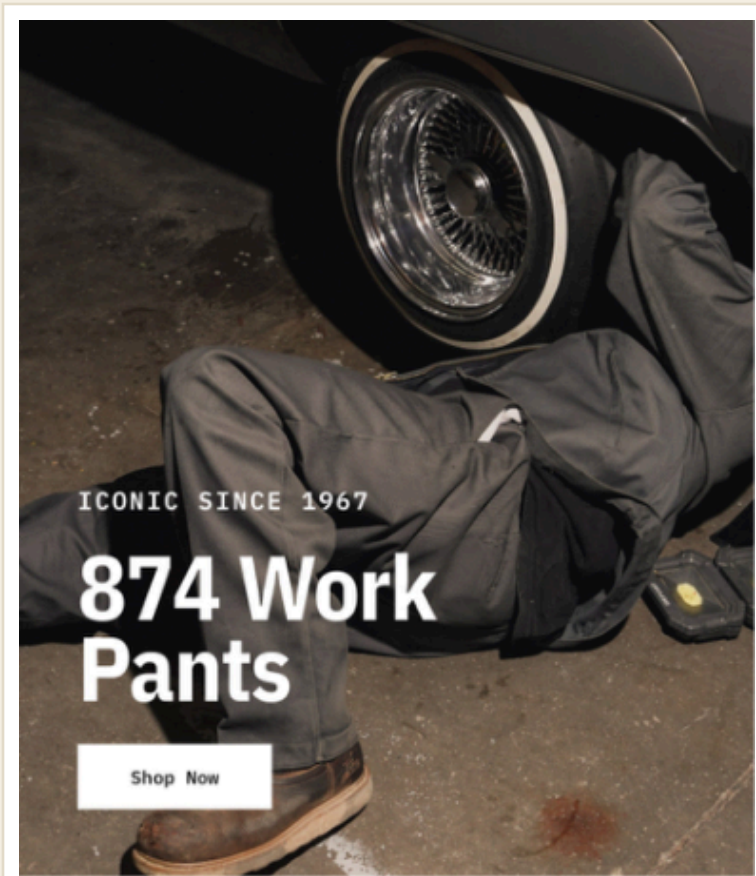

Dickies

Seasonal and monthly omni-channel campaigns - paid & organic social, email, site assets and SMS.

Most jobs these days require more elbow than grease, that's why we've stayed loyal to the crew who literally keeps things running like a well-oiled machine. And while these styles are tailored to automotive workers, they can be used for any job that might get messy.

ELBOW GREASE

"If it ain't broke, don't fix it." We hit the nail on the head in 1967 with our timeless 874s and we're still wearing 'em today. These pants are dedicated to those committed to making their mark—now it's time to make yours.

874 WORK PANTS

Winter in Houston looks a bit different from winter in Philly—we get that. Wherever you're working, we've got jackets that'll pair perfectly with the temps.

WINTER JACKETS

Sweat the Sustainable Stuff

Built the brand voice - witty and irreverent - plus a full copy style guide, then ran it everywhere.

Sweat the Sustainable Stuff

Ditching Plastic

You know some hard plastics are almost impossible to recycle? Like those giant plastic tubs cough cough. Steel is so much better. 5-6% of all plastics (even the ones that should be recycled) are actually recycled.

We Like Metal 🙌

Metal isn't only great to get your blood pumping, steel is also the most recycled material in the world and can be reused forever.

Making a Difference

It's hard enough for small businesses to make the right choice, but we hate cutting corners. We're constantly striving to make positive change and make a difference where we can.
